ABOUT MEDICALLY ESSENTIAL ELECTRIC SERVICE (MEES)

The Florida Public Service Commission specifies utility customers must certify the need for Medically Essential Electric Service (MEES). The term “medically essential” means medical dependence on electric powered equipment that must be operated continuously or as specified by a physician to avoid loss of life or immediate hospitalization of the customer or other permanent resident at the residential service address.

MEES certification is good for one year. Customers must reapply annually to keep the certification. MEES only covers electric services.

WHAT DOES A MEES CERTIFICATION PROVIDE?

Each MEES-certified utility customer is:

1. Responsible for making satisfactory arrangements with GRU to ensure payment for continued service
2. Entitled to 24-hour notice prior to disconnection for nonpayment
3. Solely responsible for any backup equipment or power supply and a planned course of action in the event of a power outage or interruption of service

A MEES certification does not provide preferential restoration of services disconnected for any reason.

HOW DO CUSTOMERS QUALIFY FOR MEES?

Certification of a customer’s electricity needs as medically essential requires the customer to submit a Medically Essential Electric Service application signed by a physician licensed in Florida.

ARE THERE ANY FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS FOR MEES-CERTIFIED CUSTOMERS?

GRU has many payment assistance programs. Call customer service at 352-334-3434 or visit gru.com/mees for more information about the following programs:

- Payment extensions
- Family hardship extensions
- Extend-a-Hand installment payments
- Project SHARE
- Social service agencies
- Home improvement assistance

WHAT HAPPENS IF THE MEES CERTIFICATION IS NO LONGER REQUIRED?

The MEES certification is good for one year. When you no longer require MEES, simply let the certification expire.
